

A technical perspective drawing of a rectangular electronic device. The top surface is covered with a grid of circular ventilation holes. The front face features a large transparent window revealing internal components, including a central horizontal module with a grid-like pattern and various electronic components on either side. The left and right sides of the device show mounting brackets and screws. The drawing is rendered in a clean, technical style with black lines and light gray shading.

MADEnR
UNE ÉNERGIE PLEINE D'AVENIR

Indices de révision
Indexe	Modifications	Date de réalisation	Contrôleur	Dessinateur
A	Première édition	03/09/2024	QD	QD